Since working at Long Travel, I have progressed from young man to father of three beautiful girls. All in eight years - incredible!

The people I work with are more like friends than colleagues and bosses, and our Italian owners consider us all friends, too. I love getting really involved in helping people plan their holidays to the Southern Italy I adore. Next year, I hope to return to Sicily and anywhere else I can...hint! hint!

MICHAEL

Since joining Long Travel three years ago, I've been incredibly lucky to indulge in my passion for Italy, its people, food, (and wine!!) AND get paid for it! One day, I hope to combine this with my other passion, driving cars, and do a Grand Tour of Southern Italy.

We all share an enthusiasm for the South and the friendly banter in the office is one of the best parts of the job. And the cakes, of course!

HELEN

Colin & I (alias Darby & Joan) live with four cats on our farm, in beautiful rural Shropshire. Our two children have flown the nest.

I love everything about travel, red wine and good food - not necessarily in that order! The best things about being with Long Travel for the last five years are being paid to talk about Italy and all of our beautiful properties, and the camaraderie of "the Gang".

ALISON

I love travelling to picturesque rural Shropshire to work. My husband, son and I have all enjoyed holidays in Southern Italy and we especially love agritourism.

I feel lucky that I have been able to change my working hours to fit around family life, and I have enjoyed my admin role with Long Travel for the last 10 years. (Though rumour has it that I come to work just to be teased!)

"Large impersonal organisations just can't compete. We would definitely recommend you."

"All our queries have been dealt with promptly, the level of knowledge of those we spoke to was outstanding...a breath of fresh air."

With almost two years under my belt, I am the most recent member of the Long Travel team. It's wonderful to have a job that combines two of my interests - travel & languages. My passion for Italy stems from a language class and a visit to Italy, which lived up to all my expectations and more. Since then I have been hooked! I need more practice with the language - but Long Travel gives me plenty of that! Thank goodness that our Southern Italian contacts are so kind and patient!

We are two totally useless members of staff. We have been known to answer the phone occasionally, but we're not great with computers! We are cuddly though!
